Subject: Statement on the Russian Invasion of Ukraine

Dear Members of Congress and Public,

I feel it is my duty as president to provide you with a statement regarding the Ukraine Russia crisis. In his latest unjust and unprovoked escalation, the Russian president Putin has recognized separatist regions of Ukraine. This is just one escalation in a long line of unprovoked escalations, misinformation, threats and allegations which clearly and undoubtedly set up for a full invasion of Ukraine on almost all of her borders. In fact, an invasion could happen at any moment. Indeed this night which I write to you, a 190,000 tanks might roll down pastures and hillsides invoking memories of Germany in War war two. We must not allow this to go unpunished. Ukraine is, by all rights, a sovereign and separate state protected under UN charters and international law which guarantees the right of political determination. The reason for our creation as a nation was and is to stand against tyranny. There is not a shred of evidence justifying any of what the deplorable morally that is Putin has done. We stand by Ukraine and if Russia advances into Ukraine, we will impose heavy sanctions upon the Russian Federation. I urge you to unite against this terrible and unprovoked move against Ukrainian democracy.
